DISCOVERING LOCAL NATURE AND CULTURE

The Calabrian coast where the Club Esse Sunbeach is located has a lot to offer, starting from visits to typical small towns like Tropea and Isola di Capo Rizzuto. You can take a journey through history at the National Archaeological Park of Roccelletta and at the Castle of Le Castella. Alternatively, it is always a good idea to go out in a dinghy in the clear waters off the Calabrian coast.

CALABRIA

One of Italy's regions, full of archetypes and ancestral memories, guarding the secrets of time and history in an enchanting landscape, conveying these treasures to those who appreciate wonderful things sometimes hidden below the surface. It is a crossroads of cultural influences between East and West, producing a highly fascinating and inspiring artistic and cultural heritage. This sun-kissed land embraced by two seas in the middle of the Mediterranean has a wonderful, mythical landscape that needs to be experienced and visited. Calabria regales visitors with an immense artistic and cultural heritage, as well as the local wine and culinary traditions, and the typical folklore events; and let's not forget the warm, friendly hospitality of the local people.

Welcome to Calabria, a place to feel at home.

The great Gulf of Squillace

It extends from isola Capo Rizzuto to the promontory of Stilo di Monasterace, and is a bay known since ancient times for its strong winds making it hard to sail (a famous proverb goes like this: "Squillace, Squillace, where the wind never stops").

It is on the Ionian side of Calabria, between the provinces of Catanzaro and Crotona. It is a stretch of sea good for a boat trip but great care must be taken to monitor the weather conditions, since the winds blowing down from the Apennine Mountains may cause very high waves. Many of Calabria's most famous tourist resorts are located on the Gulf of Squillace.

Catanzaro Lido

This is a district of Catanzaro; located 8 km as the crow flies south of the city centre (16 km going along the whole coast), it extends for about 5 km along the Ionian coast. The locals consider it to be not just a suburb but rather an actual city on the sea, Catanzaro's tourist and beach town. This district is the start of the coastline about 20 km long to Soverato that is a major tourist venue in the summer. Located between the mouth of the Corace and the Casciolino quarter, it also has a small marina.

Catanzaro - Lido Squillace Beachfront

Its origins are lost in the mists of time, and legend says that Ulysses founded the city. When the King of Ithaca was going back to Troy, he landed after a storm on the flat ground between the rivers Corace and Alessi, and Squillace was born.

In the past thirty years the beach area near the old city had undergone fast growth. Previously known as Squillace Scalo, the area is now usually Squillace Lido, or Marina di Squillace.

Marina di Squillace

Soverato

A Calabrian town in the Province of Catanzaro. The name derives from the Latin Castrum Suberate from suber, i.e. cork. This could mean that there may have been cork oaks in the area. The beach resort has been awarded three sails in the Legambiente Blue Guide.

Beach at Soverato

San Sostene

A tourist resort town a few kilometres from Soverato, located on the Ionian Sea, it has a typical beachfront promenade, where visitors can go on hot summer days.

Davoli

The territory of Davoli is comprised of two areas; the old town, with a population of about 1,000 represents the historical and cultural heritage; the Marina area, with its tourist and shopping facilities, is now the most heavily populated district.
